Twenty-six new books have been added to the library this past year. Average number of books taken each week, sixty.

The scholars of the town have manifested much interest in the library, so there is great need of standard books for supplementary reading.

Several volumes of fiction have been presented to the library during the year, and the trustees solicit more of these books. All donations are gratefully received, and the management hopes that all the townspeople will bear in mind that this is a good way to dispose of the late books of fiction.

Feeling confident that the interest in our public library will still increase, and that it will serve a good purpose, the trustees again ask for your financial aid and moral support.

JOSIE C. NASH, Secretary.

There is due from the State for burial of soldier's widow, $35.00.

The suit against the town of Cherryfield brought by Susie Mack McClure for damage to her property and trade by improvements made on the main highway, was heard and tried before Justice Philbrook, who ordered and decreed judgment for the town, no damages, each party paying his own costs.

The selectmen would like further instructions from the town in regard to disposition of the money appropriated to rebuild the foot bridge. The work was not done this year, as the amount raised for the purpose was much less than the cost of the work contemplated.

BUILDINGS.

Your committee has expended quite a sum for painting during the past year. The buildings are mostly clean and in a presentable condition. The ceiling and side walls in the intermediate schools need to be painted. The walls and ceiling of the grammar school building were painted last summer, and a first-class heating and ventilating furnace installed in the cellar. The State designated a part of the equalization fund for that purpose.

The school yards are in bad condition. The road leading to the Lower Corner schoolhouse has at last become absolutely impassable for teams of any sort. Some money should be raised for remedying this, and some for repairs on outbuildings.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Common schools	$1800 00
Text-books	400 00
Repairs, insurance, supplies	650 00
Cleaning	50 00

Respectfully submitted,

FRANCES C. JEWETT,

Superintendent of Schools.
